

The best MARCO POLO Insider Tips

Our top 15 Insider Tips

INSIDER TIP ▶ Clifftop panorama

The view from the top of Kliff Grpašćak is simply spectacular, with the southwest coast of Dugi otok rising impressively from the sea in a huge wall of rock → p. 39

INSIDER TIP ▶ Swim among ancient ruins

Ugljan's idyllic Vela Luka beach is surrounded by Roman archaeological sites, which are unfortunately not signposted – but it's fun to hunt them down! → p. 44

INSIDER TIP ▶ Life with a Latin twist

The rainbow colours and relaxed atmosphere of Abuela's Beach House in Brela lend a Caribbean touch to the Makarska Riviera → p. 64

INSIDER TIP ▶ An island for explorers

Šipan is the most diverse of the Elaphiti Islands, and yet small enough to discover on foot (photo above) → p. 89

INSIDER TIP ▶ Seaside games

Split's city beach Bačvice is a meeting point for picigin players – get involved! → p. 69

INSIDER TIP ▶ Go kayaking among God's tears

Grab your paddle and let Kornati Adventures show you the most beautiful islands in the fascinating Kornati archipelago – not to mention the best konobas! → p. 35

INSIDER TIP ▶ Relax with snacks and wine

Šibenik's latest culinary trend is Croatian tapas, which you should order at Vino i Ino with a nice glass of wine → p. 30

INSIDER TIP ▶ Herbs and salt

The lagoons around Nin have a long tradition of salt production, and the salt works museum shop sells delicious herb-infused salt → p. 51

INSIDER TIP ▶ The Roman age, reloaded

Zadar's Archaeological Museum takes visitors on an exciting and gripping journey back through the centuries to when the Romans ruled Dalmatia → p. 46

INSIDER TIP ▶ The white city

Pučišća on the island of Brač is built out of the island's famous marble; even the souvenirs here are made of stone (photo below) → p. 56

INSIDER TIP ▶ Ride a sea kayak into the sunset

Take to the water with Hvar Adventures on a guided paddle tour of Hvar's old town for an unusual perspective on this jet-set hot spot → p. 60

INSIDER TIP ▶ Pitch your tent on a terrace

FOR FREE

● Art in white stone

Visit the Galerija Jakšić in Donji Humac on Brač to see how generations of Croatian artists have worked and continue to work with the island's precious marble; viewings are free of charge → p. 56

● Monastic treasures in a beautiful location

Most monasteries on the Croatian coast charge admission fees. The Benedictines of Sv. Kuzma i Damjan near Tkon are still not charging an entrance fee to show off their beautifully situated abbey and Gothic church, whose portal bears Glagolitic inscriptions → p. 45

● Underwater museum

There is no admission fee to view the sarcophagus submerged off the coast of Silba, which dates from late antiquity – all you need to visit this underwater museum is a diving mask and snorkel → p. 51

● A promontory of ancient buildings

There is currently no admission fee to visit the foundations of a Roman bath and the cemetery of a Greek necropolis located on the peninsula by the town of Vis, on the island of the same name → p. 73

● Medieval picture book

You could spend several hours gazing at the portal of Trogir Cathedral without running out of new discoveries. The Old and New Testaments were chiselled into the stone, as if in a frenzy. They can be seen perfectly well from the square without paying a cent (photo) → p. 71

● Well-maintained lido with a view of Zadar

The municipal authorities of Preko on the island of Ugljan take the comfort of their guests very seriously, and when renovating their public lido they even thought of adding showers, sun loungers and access ladders down to the sea – all of it free of charge → p. 44

ONLY IN DALMATIA

Unique experiences

● No boundary between land and sea

The fact that the Dalmatian island world consists of peaks whose mountains were submerged is nowhere so palpable as on the island of Dugi otok, especially if you take to the panoramic road with your mountain bike → p. 37

● A beach with a monastery

The shingle beach of Martinšćica, near Bol, lies just behind Brač's famous Golden Cape, on a gently curving bay with crystal-clear waters and an idyllic monastery located on the peninsula. A typical Dalmatian scene → p. 54

● Get out onto the water

Make sure you see the old town of Korčula from the water too. From this perspective, its typically Dalmatian ensemble of buildings – with a cathedral, an episcopal palace and their surrounding rows of houses – really comes into its own → p. 90

● Sweet sounds

When the people of Dalmatia sing, then they usually do so a cappella and with many parts. In July, the best klapa choirs go head to head in the town of Omiš → p. 122

● A district with an authentic ambience

The Varoš quarter of Zadar's old town has avoided the tourists and souvenir shops that fill the rest of the city. This district of bakeries, hairdressers, original boutiques and neighbourhood cafés transforms into a nightlife hot spot after dark (photo) → p. 48

● Island hopping

Everything that the people living on the Elaphiti Islands need is brought in by ferry – from letters and parcels to chickens and washing machines. Climb aboard too to gain an insight into everyday island life in Dalmatia – including a rest stop on the sandy beach of Lopud → p. 121

● Breathtaking panorama

The reward for the steep climb from Hvar's Pjaca up to the Španjola Fortress is a typically Dalmatian panorama: at your feet, the houses of the old town, the harbour speckled with boats, beyond them the green dots of the Pakleni otoci floating in the blue of the Adriatic → p. 58
